Executive Proclamation
Office of the Governor

Whereas, The National Weather Service Forecast Office in Aberdeen, in conjunction with state and local schools, agencies, and businesses, is hosting a Women in Science Conference on March 8, 2011; and,

Whereas, The Women in Science forum is designed to address the important issue of why young women lose interest in science-related careers; and,

Whereas, The Women in Science conferences will provide young women opportunities to meet professional women scientists and to make personal connections with them; and,

Whereas, The Women in Science conferences will promote a positive image of science-related careers and encourage young women to cultivate their interest in science; and,

Whereas, The Women in Science conferences will provide young women with information on the endless opportunities available in science-related career fields; and,

Whereas, The Women in Science conferences will help to increase the number of women in science programs in junior and senior high schools and universities; and,

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that, as Governor of the state of South Dakota, I recognize the importance of women serving in science-related career fields:

Now, Therefore, I, Dennis Daugaard, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby observe March 8, 2011, as

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-second Day of February in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Eleven.

Dennis Daugaard

Dennis Daugaard, Governor
